LINCOLN

24 Sept. 1903.

To county superintendents:-

You will receive in a day or two, from this office, copies of a Library day circular, and a list of books suitable for presents for children, in sufficient quantities for all the teachers in your county except those in the towns noted below. Much time, and considerable of the state's money have been devoted to the preparation and distribution of these circulars, in the hope of helping the boys and girls of Nebraska to have more and better books at school and at home. Your share in this good work is to get these circulars promptly into the hands of your teachers. Library day will be observed on October 23, this year, and the teachers ought to have the circulars without delay. Can you not make a special effort to bring the matter to the attention of your teachers, and so make Library day count for the betterment of the schools of your county?

In November, you may expect a new and extended edition of our List of books for school libraries. A well selected library in every school in the state--is the ideal towards which we are working. Help us realize it.

Sincerely,

Edna D. Bullock, Sec'y.

These circulars have already been sent to the teachers in the following towns:-
